My main interest in Cognitive Linguistics is the way and the circumstances under which Internet users tend to use Ironical and Sarcastic utterances when they participate in Online Dialogues, where they express their opinion on social issues. The Online platforms, especially those of Facebook and YouTube, constitute an appropriate space where individuals can be very creative in the words, emoticons and paralinguistic elements they choose to use so as to express their thoughts. The Ironical and Sarcastic utterances people use on those platforms in order to express (im)politeness towards any other individual are of particular interest to me. The study of Multi-modal Metaphor and Metonymy are fields of Cognitive Linguistics that attract my attention as well. Some other fields of Linguistic studies that arouse my interest are those of Socio-pragmatics, Semantics and Psycholinguistics.
